performance flexible packaging products including FreezyPeel, a peelable film for frozen foods, engineered for low-temperature resistance.

Also in high profile is its ClearSkinPack invisible skin film for vacuum packaging that ensures extended shelf life and premium presentation, even in vertical display. Featuring high mechanical strength and EVOH barrier, it is promoted as “perfect for frozen products, ready meals, bone-in meats and seafood. ready meals, and.

Beyond top lidding and skin applications, ITP offers a comprehensive range of barrier and resealable films for flexible packaging, tailored to various product types and formats. Bariflex and RecyBariflex deliver high barrier performance and recyclability, while Sealflex and RecySealflex ensure secure sealing and compatibility with high-speed lines.

For the frozen food sector, ITP provides films with excellent cold resistance, ensuring convenience and product integrity. The portfolio also includes pouches – doypacks, gusset bags, and three-side seal formats – made from laminated or mono-material PE films.

In response to the growing importance of cultural and religious standards in global markets, ITP has initiated the halal certification process for a strategic selection of its packaging offerings.

“Gulfood Manufacturing is a strategic opportunity for us to connect with food industry players in the Middle East, share our vision of responsible packaging, and present solutions that respect the unique characteristics of the markets we aim to grow in,” said Paola Centonze, ITP’s chief communication and sustainability officer.
